KNOWLEDGE

DIGESTION

Digestion is how your body turns food you eat into nutrients it uses for energy, growth and cell repair. The digestive tract (or gastrointestinal tract), is a long twisting tube that starts at your mouth and ends at your anus. It's made up of a series of muscles that coordinate the movement of food and other cells that make enzymes and hormones to break down food. Along the way are three other organs that are needed for digestion: your liver, gallbladder and pancreas.

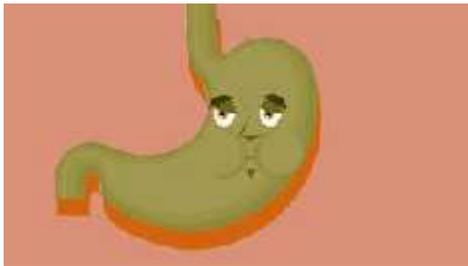

Digestion is the breakdown of large insoluble food molecules into small water-soluble food molecules so that they can be absorbed into the watery blood plasma. In certain organisms, these smaller substances are absorbed through the small intestine into the blood stream.

Anatomy of Digestive System

- Process of dissolving and chemically converting food for absorption by cells.
- In the mouth, food is chewed, mixed with SALIVA, which begins to break down starches, and kneaded by the tongue into a ball for swallowing.
- PERISTALSIS propels it through the esophagus and the rest of the alimentary canal.
- Food mixes with ACID and ENZYMES, which further break it down in the stomach.
- The mixture called CHYME, enters the duodenum, the first part of the small intestine.
- BILE from the liver breaks up FAT globules.

- ENZYMES from the pancreas and intestinal glands act on specific molecules, breaking CARBOHYDRATES down into simple SUGARS, PROTEINS into AMINOACIDS, and fats into GLYCEROL and FATTY ACIDS.
- These products are absorbed by the bloodstream.
- Indigestible substances, such as FIBRE, pass into the large intestine, where water and IONS are reabsorbed and FECES held for EXCRETION.

COMMON CAUSES OF DIGESTIVE DISORDERS

- Mental Disturbance
- Poor immune system response
- Modern lifestyles, stress and tensions
- Sudden burst of anger, grief, hatred, jealousy
- Fast life style and improper / erratic eating habits
- Too much consumption of Maida, eg. biscuits, cakes, pastries, samosa
- Lack of fibre food in diet, like fruits and salads
- Less intake of water
- Over eating of junk food like, creams, cold drink, chocolate, burgers, etc.
- Deficiency of Vitamin Thiamine or Folic acid
- Deficiency of Vitamin B12
- Mother has poor digestion or she has a sluggish liver, the child too may have similar disorders

- Mother has High blood pressure during pregnancy, the child may develop poor digestive and absorption capacity
- Lack of proper exercise
- Children who are under constant tension with regard to performance in school or extra curricular activities, due to pressure or parents expectations
- Frequent attacks of fever conditions like, jaundice, typhoid, malaria, etc.
- A sluggish functioning of large intestine, especially the descending colon
- Infection or Inflammation
- Accumulation of partly digested proteins
- Chronic hypothyroidism
- Poor secretion of mucus in large intestine
- Foreign organism present in food
- Diarrhea / dysentery
- Gastro Enteritis
- Side effects of medicines
- Gluten sensitivity

DIGESTIVE DISORDERS

Constipation

Infrequent bowel movements, and small, hard-to-pass stool with pain.

Causes-

Constipation is usually caused by the slow movement of material through the colon. Some other causes of constipation are side-effects of medicines, poor bowel habits, low fiber diets, hormonal disorders, diseases primarily of other parts of the body that also affect the colon, and high levels of oestrogen and progesterone during pregnancy.

Symptoms –

Passing fewer than three stools a week. Having lumpy or hard stools. Having lower abdominal discomfort, a sense of incomplete evacuation after a bowel movement. Sometimes rectal bleeding and / or anal fissures caused by hard stools. Some may even feel lower back pain, bloating and vomiting.

Self treatment –

Drink more fluids, eating more high-fibre foods and getting regular exercise may help to relieve constipation. Drink at least 10-12 glasses of water in a day.

LMNT Treatment Formulae –

1. Normal + Ajay Normal
2. Udf + Large folic black
3. Vater + New Gal
4. Left side treatment formula
5. Formula number four

Acidity

Acidity, also called the acid reflux, is a condition that is characterized by heartburn that is felt around the lower chest area. The most common acid reflux symptom is a burning sensation in the chest, and pain. While most people suffer in pain, they do not realize that poor lifestyle choices are the main reason behind acidity.

Causes –

Acidity is caused due to excess production of acid in the stomach by the gastric glands. Unhealthy habits like skipping meals or eating at irregular times, eating just before sleeping, overeating, consumption of more spicy food, table salt, tea, coffee, carbonated and soft drinks, and maida products.

Acidity is also caused due to side-effects of some medicines. Stomach disorders such as gastroesophageal reflux disease, tumours, peptic ulcers, gluten sensitivity also creates acidity. Excessive stress, lack of sleep, diabetes, asthma, connective tissue disorder and such are more prone to acidity.

Symptoms –

Acidity symptoms differ from one person to another. Burning sensation and pain in the stomach, chest or in the throat. Frequent burping or hiccups for no apparent reason. Prolonged sour taste in the mouth or bitter-tasting acid that backs up into throat and mouth. Chronic discomfort in the upper abdomen.

Self treatment –

Include the following in your diet :Coconut water, watermelon juice, buttermilk is known to soothe your stomach and the digestive system. Include banana, cucumber and yoghurt in the diet. Use ginger in your cooking or boil it in a glass of water, reduce to half glass and consume the water. Munch on some cumin or boil a teaspoon of cumin in a glass of water. Boil until the water is reduced to half. Drink it on an empty stomach.

LMNT Treatment Formulae –

2. Acid + A.Heparin
3. Vater + New Gal + Acid Formula
4. Kidney clearance

Poor Digestion

Digestion is important for breaking down food into nutrients, which the body uses for energy, growth, and cell repair. Food and drink must be changed into smaller molecules of nutrients before the blood absorbs them and carries them to cells throughout the body. But if the digestion is poor the whole metabolic system will be affected and the functions will slow down.

Causes –

Bacteria in food, infection, eating very fast without chewing the food, wrong eating habits, stress, certain medications, or chronic medical conditions can be the cause of poor digestion.

Symptoms –

Upset stomach. Stomach disturbances like gas, bloating, constipation, diarrhea, and heartburn can all be signs of an unhealthy gut. Food intolerances, skin irritation, unintentional weight changes, sleep disturbances or constant fatigue are seen in many cases. Autoimmune conditions are also the symptoms.

Self treatment –

Eat fresh food and get plenty of fiber. Chew food well and get hydrated. Manage your stress and get enough sleep. Include probiotics in your diet.
